

A MERCHANT SERVICES PARTNERSHIP TO HELP GROW YOUR BUSINESS

Payments that drive commerce

Successful partnerships are agile, ever-evolving to meet emerging needs. That's why your financial institution partners with Worldpay from FIS. An industry leader in technology solutions for banks worldwide, Worldpay is known for building successful business customer relationships in new ways.

Together, we can help you simplify payment acceptance, improve the customer experience, get the security you need, and accelerate revenue through our merchant services program. You'll find it easier to navigate the payments landscape and get the expert service you expect.

A capable and trusted partner

- In partnership with Worldpay, your financial institution offers a suite of payment solutions and technology to support your specific business needs, help simplify operations, and increase your bottom line.
- Your financial institution is your local expert in business financial services and can help you navigate payments more efficiently and seamlessly.
- You've already developed trust in your financial institution to handle some of your most private information and critical transactions. Merchant services is a natural extension of that trusted relationship.
- Through your financial institution's relationship with Worldpay, you'll work directly with a trusted Worldpay account representative to better assist you with your servicing conversations.
- Our partnership enables fast and efficient response to inquiries with a three-tier level of dedicated support infrastructure including customer service, technical service, and relationship management.
- Your peace-of-mind is very important and Worldpay has the technology, tools, and resources to help secure your business, customers, and sensitive data.
- Worldpay offers the payments data and insights that help your financial institution help you identify areas where you can reinvest in your business to drive growth.
- By trusting your financial institution with your merchant services, all your business-critical accounts are centralized in one place for a more convenient and efficient banking experience.

We're here for you. Let us help you get started today.