Why FIS

A unified, global platform

Say goodbye to fragmented systems. Our single, global middle office operates 24/7, handling transactions across a multiple asset classes. No more juggling multiple platforms or worrying about downtime.

Streamlined workflows

Our comprehensive allocation and confirmation workflows are designed to make your life easier. With our pre-conformed DTCC CTM capability, automated allocation file reading, and template-based document confirmations, we reduce manual errors and speed up your processes.

Real-time issue resolution

We identify exceptions on blocks and allocations in real-time, allowing for quick resolutions that improve client service. Your team can focus on strategic tasks rather than fire fighting operational issues.

Seamless integration with API-based architecture

Migrating to a new system doesn't have to be a headache. Our API-based architecture integrates smoothly with your existing front-office and post trade systems, ensuring a seamless transition and future-proofing your operations.

Stay current without the hassle

No more waiting weeks for support requests to be addressed. Our follow-the sun support team manages changes and requests quickly through a flexible configuration layer, ensuring you get the help you need when you need it.
