

FIS ASSET FINANCE

Digital Platform Powering the Evolving Asset and Auto Finance Requirements

Consumer and business lending is constantly evolving. Customers are demanding more solutions, more flexibility and quicker financing. However, asset and auto finance organizations struggle to optimize technology at a time when the consequences of falling behind on technology advancements have never been greater. Economic uncertainty, market and interest rate volatility, regulatory and environmental requirements as well as increasing customer demand place more pressure on asset and auto finance staff than ever before.

As business needs change, organizations must be able to deliver innovation quickly and adapt applications dynamically. This means reassembling capabilities from inside and outside the enterprise at speed. To do this, the organization must understand and implement the composable enterprise.

FIS® Asset Finance is a digital platform uniquely designed to meet the evolving needs of the asset and auto finance sectors with a componentized and configurable architecture that supports agility and cost-effectiveness. Its flexibility allows clients to select essential functionalities and integrate seamlessly via APIs, enhancing system compatibility and operational efficiency. This approach helps accelerate deployment and reduce costs, offering faster access to market innovations and responsiveness to customer demands.
