

Technology: driving true stewardship of the balance sheet

As banks look to strengthen the balance sheet, refinance debt and improve the quality and management of short and long term funding, the role of the treasurer will be critical for success.

However, the treasurer will need the support of a comprehensive technology platform that provides access to the wealth of information and analysis that is required to protect the bank.

What does such a technology platform look like? It has multiple dimensions, all of which must be seamlessly integrated to provide the full picture and functionality that a true steward of the balance sheet requires.

How can I leverage treasury technology in the cloud?

Treasury technology is key to helping banks act as stewards of the balance sheet. While treasurers might recognize the value that sophisticated treasury technology can offer, they may lack in-house skills or find it difficult to dedicate resources and budgets to maintaining technology solutions in line with industry best practice. By leveraging treasury technology in a secure, private cloud model with managed services wrapped around it, banks can focus on acting as the stewards of the balance sheet while the technology vendor manages the rest.
