JACKSONVILLE, Fla., November 04, 2016 – FIS[™] (NYSE: FIS), a global leader in financial services technology, has been named “best outsourcing provider to the buy side” for the second consecutive year by Waters Technology, in the publication’s annual Buy-side Technology Awards. As in 2015, the award recognizes the outsourced services that accompany FIS’ Investment Operations technology suite.

In naming FIS the winner in a ceremony in London on November 4, the judging panel acknowledged its “ability to provide valuable, cost-effective and efficient outsourced services to the buy side.” FIS Investment Operations is designed to support the entire fund administration life cycle across multiple asset classes and pooled investment structures.

“We are honored to receive this award for the second year from Waters Technology and its prestigious panel of industry judges. While our technology helps clients manage a growing range of operational and regulatory requirements, we are aware that implementation, management and maintenance can introduce other challenges for buy-side firms,” commented Martin Boyd, division executive, Buy-Side, FIS. “That’s why It is especially gratifying to be recognized for a solution that reduces our clients’ technology burden through optional cloud offerings and running many of them as a fully hosted and managed service. I also want to make sure we recognize our clients, and the way in which they closely partner, ensuring that they both input to, and take advantage of, our latest innovations with less operational impact and lower capital expenditure.”
